TRADITIONAL VALUES, MODERN APPLICATIONS.

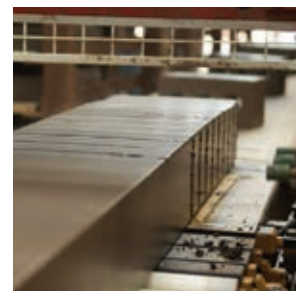

York Handmade Brick Company Ltd. was founded in 1988 to manufacture genuine handmade clay bricks, pavers, special shapes and terracotta floor tiles.

Based near York, England, our aim is to produce a wide variety of colour, texture and size in brick, perfect for sensitive restoration and prestigious new build projects alike.

An award winning pedigree proves our capability to manufacture beautiful bricks, for use in the enhancement of our built environment.

With a workforce of 30 people, we pride ourselves on the employment of a local labour force, trained in the skills to help them become master brick makers.

Continuous investment at our factory has seen over £2 million spent on new plant and equipment so far, combining modern kiln firing technology with time honoured hand throwing techniques, to produce products of character and durability.

HERITAGE IN OUR HANDS

York Handmade is sited on a rich seam of Lacustrine clay, a mudstone laid down in the Triassic era. This natural resource has been utilised by brick makers in this part of the country since Roman times.

This type of clay is very malleable, easily worked, fires to produce a rich palette of colour and is ideally suited to fashioning detailed shapes and sizes...the hallmark of York Handmade Brick.
